BleekerVigesaa General Contractors named top contractor in Colorado

BleekerVigesaa General Contractors was named one of the top 50 general contractors in the state by Colorado Construction Magazine. BleekerVigesaa was also named to the top 200 retail construction general contractors nationwide by Retail Construction Magazine.

James Vigesaa, owner of the Brighton company, said, "This is a tremendous achievement for our company, but it is really no surprise to us. We have built our company on customer satisfaction and referrals and now our name in the marketplace brings the business to us.

"We really want to thank the city of Brighton for being very supportive in selecting us for many of their construction projects and being a strong contributor to this top 50 ranking," Vigesaa said.
